"IT IS SAID."

President Cleveland is said to have decided to make no change in the office of public printer, now held by President Harrison's appointee, Mr. Palmer.—Ex.

Let's see! The government printer is said to be a relative of Mr. Gresham, the President's Secretary of State. Still he ought to be made to "walk the plank," and his place given to a good Democrat. Palmer is a Republican.—Clarion-Ledger.

It is said also, and never that we have seen denied, that Palmer is retained on the recommendation of Mr. Richardson; the Democratic Chairman of the committee on printing. This is probably a fair sample of the complaints against the President by Democrats, for dilatoriness in official changes. The general injustice of this charge is shown in the following Washington special: which we have not noted reproduced in the very papers in Mississippi which have echoed the charge:

Washington, March 21.—More than one-half of the whole number of presidential postoffices have been filled by nominations sent to the Senate since the incoming of the present administration. This fact is brought out in a comparative statement prepared at the Postoffice Department. It is shown that the number of these appointments by the last administration, from March 4, 1889, to March 12, 1890, was 1698. There were 32 presidential appointments made on March 13, 1890. The number made by this administration between March 4, 1893, and March 13, 1894, was 1720. The total number of presidential postoffices in operation March 12 last was 3425. Figures of appointments of fourth class postmasters for the former Cleveland administration and the Harrison administration are given on the basis of sixteen months, as official statements then compiled covered the fiscal year and the period from March 4 to July 1 of the first year of each administration. For the twelve months of the present administration the number of changes in fourth postmasters was 22,012. The changes for the sixteen months ending June 30, 1886, aggregated 20,881. For the first sixteen months of the Harrison administration the number was 24,645, and the monthly average of appointments of both presidential and fourth class postmasters during the Harrison administration was 1646 and for the present administration 1977.

THE CARNEGIE CORRUPTION.

The worst of this Carnegie works fraud on the Government, is that there can be no certainty that similar practices do not run all through the years of that company's enormous contracts for furnishing the Government with armor plate. The imperfections in the armor plate were so cunningly disguised as to escape the detection of skilled and careful examination of army officers; was only discovered through the testimony of informers. It is a pity that the fine—$140,000—could not have been made heavier. The disclaimer of knowledge or participation in the rascality by Carnegie and Frick—the only parties benefited—may be true. But there will be some people so skeptical as to doubt.

Notice.

An error in arrangement of dates having arisen, it has been decided to fix the date of the Masquerade Ball on Thursday the 12th instead of the 5th of April. This will give a week longer for preparation, and will enhance the success of the undertaking and enable many to attend who would otherwise be unable to do so. The object is charity, the ball being given for the benefit of the poor, and the cause must appeal to all. A glorious time is expected and all will be well rewarded who will bear in mind the altered date, April 12th, at Hexter's Hall. Respectfully,
THE MANAGERS.

The Greenville Ball team have secured the services of Mr. W. F. McFarland, of Florence, Ala., as pitcher for the coming season. Mr. McFarland comes very highly recommended for his social and personal qualities, as well as his excellence as a ball player, he being one of the best known amateur pitchers in state.

Captain W. F. Randolph left on Tuesday for Florida, where he expects to remain for two or three weeks.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

General Order No. 120, issued by commanding General J. B. Gordon from the headquarters of the United Confederate Veterans at New Orleans, announces that the fourth annual meeting of the veterans will be held in Birmingham, Ala., on the 25th and 26th of April, 1894. All Confederate organizations and Confederate soldiers and sailors are cordially invited to attend. It is also announced that four hundred and seventy camps are already enrolled in the organization, with applications for over one hundred more. This excellent showing is a matter of pride and great gratification to the organization, which urges upon all ex-Confederate soldiers and sailors to form themselves into local associations, to report at once to headquarters, and to participate in the laudable and philanthropic objects of this re-union. The business before the convention at Birmingham will be of great importance, including the best method of securing impartial history, and the compilation and preservation of the history of the citizen soldiery in each State; the care, through State aid or otherwise, of aged and disabled veterans, or the widows and orphans of the deceased; the care of graves of the fallen at Gettysburg and the various prison cemeteries; the consideration of the building of monuments to the memory of various leaders, and securing a pension for Mrs. Jefferson Davis. Many other matters of importance and general interest will come before the convention. The order urges each camp to at once elect delegates, as only accredited delegates will participate in the business of the re-union. The representation by delegates will be fixed as in article 3 of the constitution, viz.: One delegate for every 20 members, and one for any fraction over 20. Each camp shall be entitled to at least two delegates.

No camp shall be allowed representation unless all amounts due as initiation fee and per capita shall have been paid on or before April 1st preceding the meeting. Details of programme to be observed will be furnished to camps and all veterans by the committee of arrangements. Any further information can be obtained by applying to Capt. R. E. Jones, Commander Camp Hardee No. 39, Chairman Reunion Committee, Birmingham, Ala. The General commanding requests and hopes that railroad officials will aid the old veterans by giving them such reduced rates of transportation as will enable them to attend. Officers of the general staff are directed to assist department, division commanders and others in organizing their respective States, and generally to assist in the complete federation of all Confederate survivors in one organization under the constitution of the United Confederate Veterans.

The above is a synopsis of the official order, sent out by the General commanding and will be read with interest by all. The object and purposes of the organization are so excellent that its advantage and furtherance should be the study of all who have it in their power to promote its interests.

The Bankruptcy Bill.

The Senate committee on judiciary has had the bankruptcy bill under discussion, and while no decision was reached, a general disposition was manifest to report a bankruptcy bill. There was a difference of opinion as to whether the bill to be reported should provide for both voluntary and involuntary bankruptcy or simply for voluntary bankruptcy. There was also a discussion as to what act on the part of the person shall constitute bankruptcy. The bill before the committee provides failure to meet a note due shall be sufficient, but some of the members of the committee were not satisfied with this definition of the requirements, and a sub-committee, consisting of Senators George Vilas, Hoar and Mitchell, was appointed to investigate this question and report to the full committee at a future meeting.

In the Spring the fancy of Vicksburg, Greenville and Memphis lightly turns to amateur concerts. Each of the three cities has in preparation an entertainment of this character, in which the citizens and papers are taking much interest. There is talent enough in the three places to make the affairs something to be proud of, and it is quite certain that the Greenville concert will have nothing to fear from comparison with those of her sister cities.

SILVER CODDLING ANARCHY.

Washington, March 25.—Senator Stewart, of Nevada, has written the following letter to J. S. Coxey, commander of the Army of the Commonwealth: "United States Senate, March 24—Gen. J. S. Coxey, Massillon O: Dear—The preservation of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness was intrusted to the people under the constitution of the United States. A free ballot was the means by which the sovereign people could receive the rights acquired by the patriots who gained the independence and establishment of the government of the United States. There was a time when the ballot placed in control of the government in Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln. Such use of the ballot sent terror and dismay to tyrants, despots and plundering oligarchies throughout the world. The enemies of justice and human rights predicted that the success of the ballot was temporary; that man was not capable of self-government. The destruction of ancient republics, and the repeated failures of the people to govern themselves, was cited in proof of their contention that despotism, oppression and slavery were the fate of the human race.

"There have been no Washingtons, Jeffersons, Jacksons or Lincolns elected president of the United States in the last two decades. A soulless despot of alien origin is monarch of the commercial world. His name is Money. His instruments of oppression are banks and bonds. His servants are administrative and legislative bodies. The army you are collecting used the ballot to put the army and the treasury department under the control of banks and bondholders and place in the halls of congress representatives to do the bidding of money changers.

"The idea of November is approaching. An opportunity for the people to strike for liberty will again be presented.

"The older parties, which have surrendered the rights of the people to the rule of concentrated capital, will ask for a renewal of their lease of power at the ballot box. Every movement of the people to obtain relief outside of the forms of law will be denounced as anarchy. The purse-strings of the nation are held by congress under the dictation of the administration, and the president is commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States. The attempt of a starving multitude to march to Washington will furnish an excuse for using the power of the governments of the states and of the United States to put down anarchy and insurrection. The vigor with which the law would be executed against starving people will be an argument in the next election for continuing in power concentrated capital as a necessity for the maintenance of law and order.

"The sufferings of the people, is the result of the element in office which does the bidding of the money powers which, by legislation and administration, have destroyed more than one-half of the metallic money of the world and cornered the other half. Twenty years of uninterrupted rule of banks and bondholders has concentrated the wealth of the world in the hands of the few and enabled them to seize the telegraph, the press and nearly every other avenue through which the people can obtain information of the cunning devices by which the parasites absorb what the masses produce. There is but one battle-field where the forces of liberty and equality can meet and overthrow the enemy of human rights. There is no law now on the statute books authorizing the President of the United States to march an army against the people at the ballot-box. Every attempt to place the ballot under the control of federal authorities has thus far been successfully resisted. Let your army be reinforced by the millions of the unemployed and by the wealth-producers of the nation, and be thoroughly mobilized for the battle in November, when a victory for the rights of man against the despotism of banks and bonds is possible. Abandon the folly of marching an unarmed multitude of starving laborers against the modern appliances of war, under the control of a soulless money trust. Such folly will augment the power of the oppressor and endanger the safety of the ballot itself. Disorder is all that is required to insure the supremacy of the armed forces of the money powers at the polls.

"The constitution of the United States is our charter of liberty. It has been subverted by an oligarchy of concentrated wealth. False agents of the people have betrayed their trust and brought misery and want upon abundance and prosperity seemed assured. Traitors to human rights have usurped the power of the government through the machinery of the party and the arts of demagogues. Hurl them from power. Trust no man who has once deceived you. Let the government of the United States administer for and not against the people. Use the ballot to protect liberty, justice and equal rights, and not cleave to power the agents of banks and bonds to perpetuate the rule of an oligarchy of wealth. Yours very truly,
WM. M. STEWART.

This declaration of conditions and political agencies is worth noting as fairly setting forth the truth of the Western alliance, which Southern Democracy is invited to form. Anarchist Coxey has replied to Silver King Stewart—declining to wait on the "idea of November." And he is logically correct in his refusal. Power enthroned as stated in the Stewart platform, was never yet overthrown by ballots or orderly methods.

When Senator Stewart denounces the past "twenty years of uninterrupted rule of banks and bankers"—his phrase would be more complete if he would interpolate; "all but the past quarter of which I supported and approved." He also betrays a treacherous memory when he says, that "every attempt to place the ballot under Federal control has been successfully resisted."

THE A. P. A.

The South has cause to give thanks for several things, among them the absence from its soil of any indication of anarchist tendencies. No outcry has come from any part of it demanding "bread or blood," no movement of dissatisfied labor has threatened its peace, and it enjoys entire immunity from many of the civil and economic complaints that are afflicting other portions of the union. Especially fortunate is it in its freedom from the insidious secret organization known as the A. P. A., now attracting such wide spread attention throughout the Western and Middle States, and which while generally denounced by the papers and more educated and reliable class of the people, yet seems to have a strong hold among certain elements. The American Protective Association so called, appears in its published platform, to be a purely patriotic order. Its professions and practice, however, differ so widely that it becomes, when stripped of its mask of honesty a very pernicious and dangerous conspiracy, un-American in its nature and methods and threatening the very spirit and genius of constitution and government. Such an organization, in a country like this, could be a power for evil only so long as its real nature was unknown. In the South, happily, that nature has become known before the society could obtain a foothold under its insidious masquerade. A few people, either from ignorance, blind bigotry, or the desire for cheap notoriety may be led astray into its devious paths, but it is not likely that the people of the South, with their characteristic conservatism, will at this late day be misled by a movement so manifestly opposed to every principle of justice and progress.

Man With a Bare Lip Got in Trouble.

The man with the bare lip was hungry. He went into a State street restaurant and at once got into trouble with the waiter because of his inability to pronounce the letter "p." He studied the coffee-stained bill of fare and then said: "I want four foached aigs." When the waiter returned he deposited before the guest four slices of pork. The bare-lipped man looked at the meat, then at the waiter. "I didn't order that," he said. "Dat's what yo' obdained, sah," replied the darkey. "You said yo' wanted fo' po'k steaks." "No, I didn't order four fork steaks; I ordered four foached aigs." "Well, what yo' klickin' about? Dere's your fo' po'k steaks." The hungry man first made sure that the Senegambian was not guying him, and then said: "See here, my friend, I don't suppose you ever lived on a farm." The waiter said he hadn't and the colloquy proceeded by the following circuitous route, in order to avoid the lingual rock on which the hungry man's gastronomic hopes had been wrecked at the outset: "Well, you know what a rooster is?" "Yes, sah; saw one on Souf Watch street once." "You know what a rooster's wife is?" "Dey youster call 'em hens." "You know what a rooster's wife's children are?" "Chickuns." "You know what a rooster's wife's children afore they're hatched are?" "Aigs." "Well! I want four rooster's wife's children afore they're hatched foached." —Chicago Post.
